

DUTCH FLAT ENQUIRER.

SATURDAY, JAN. 25, 1898.

THE SENATORIAL ELECTION.—Many strange stories are being circulated in regard to the late Senatorial contest. We give the following one in regard to W. H. Cureton, Assemblyman from Mendocino county. The story alleges that Cureton received $1,000 from some source for and in consideration of his voting for Rose of Amador. Subsequently an editor of a paper in Mendocino county is said to have purchased his vote for $2,400, who then turns and sells said "vote" for $3,000 to the Casserly faction, netting thereby $600. The young man of whom this hard story is told bears a good reputation in his county for honesty and fair dealing. We think that it is morally wrong to assert that such acts have been committed by any member of the Legislature, unless good proof of the action can be shown. In this instance nothing but the bare story is advanced and consequently we must discredit the whole story. Many other instances of bribery are whispered, but none of them have any more foundation than the one mentioned.

PAPER MILL.—A paper mill is to be erected on the Truckee river, at a cost of about $300,000. This point has been selected on account of the great quantity of pure water to be found in the Truckee, which, coupled with the facilities afforded by the Central Pacific Railroad will make it one of the most desirable points in the State for an enterprise of this description. The immense district of country which is being rapidly opened beyond the mountains towards Salt Lake city will, in a few years furnish a lucrative market for all the paper it is possible for a first class establishment to manufacture. The parties who have the project in contemplation are Eastern capitalists and we learn have fully decided on commencing operations as soon as the weather will permit.

ATTEMPTED ROBBERY.—On Tuesday evening about half past ten, as Dr. Wilson was passing the express office he noticed some one walk rapidly toward the counter. He at first supposed that it was Mr. Mathewson, but he had hardly passed the building before the individual within opened the door, and started on a run up the street. The Doctor turned and pursued the fugitive but only got near enough to see that he was a Chinaman; he being to long-winded for the Doctor, soon distanced him. The "gentleman" was probably disturbed immediately after his entrance as there had not been any thing moved with the exception of a tank of quick silver, which had been rolled into the middle of the floor.

THE Bill submitted by Senator Robinson, to the Legislature, offering a reward of one dollar per tree, for every tree which shall hereafter be planted by the roadside, when it shall have been planted for five years, seems to us to be a good idea, but we do not think it comes wholly up to the requirements. Better offer, in accordance with a proposition made by the Sacramento Union, a reward for thirty or fifty acres of new timber of the stated growth in some portion of the State unfitted for ordinary agricultural purposes. That the growing of timber or woodlands in our State, should be encouraged is quite evident. Our accessible supply of timber is not too great—we have but little substantial building timber. We hope some bill of this kind will be adopted.

ON Thursday of this week, a mass of snow slid from the roof of the Masonic Hall and its descent smashed in the roof of Brinkman's barber shop, rendering the establishment a perfect wreck. The proprietor was engaged in shaving a customer at the time of the occurrence, and, simultaneously with the crash, appeared upon the street razor in hand, closely pursued by customer napped, lathered, etc. The bystanders after ascertaining that no one was hurt, indulged in a fit of merriment.

THE turnpike from this place to Little York was badly damaged by the late storms. At the point where it crosses Little Bear river, the "tailings" on which it crosses, were cut out many feet in depth leaving the banks precipitous and inaccessible to travel. We learn that the banks have been levelled the damages repaired and that the road is again in good travelling order.

THE M. E. Social, of the 17th inst., is spoken of as a very pleasant affair. Vocal and instrumental music, coffee, cake and other refreshments were among the agencies made use of to entertain and gratify visitors. It is said that some of the musical exercises were rendered with rare skill. About twenty-five dollars were netted on the occasion.

SACRAMENTO is in danger of an inundation. The tributaries of the Sacramento and American rivers are all full to overflowing, and the principal streams are also nearly full to their banks, and it would take but a comparative small fall of rain to flood the whole lower country. We advise our friends below to keep a good look out.

SEFFENS, of the Dutch Flat hotel, has completed for the present, the course of improvements designed by him for the interior of the house. The dining room has been made more cosy and pleasant, and the bar room has been materially enlarged and beautified. A fine billiard table, free of charge, has been added to the attractions of the place.

SHALL WE SUBMIT?

Are we to be forever subjected to all the petty taunts, and high-handed insults of Great Britain, without raising our hands and voices against them? This is a question which every American statesman, and every American citizen should consider, and decide upon. The arrest and imprisonment of George Francis Train, by the English Government is an act which should awaken the ire of every American citizen. Without committing a single overt act; not having a single article in his baggage, that could be called of an insurrection, any character, as was proven by an examination by the Government officials, an American citizen is dragged into a prison, and confined in a drugged vile, as though he was a felon of the first magnitude. The British press with apomposity and self-assumed showing of importance, justify the act, by saying that the arrest was made because of speeches made by Train several years ago in England, which they proclaim were of a highly insurrectionary nature. This proposition is as absurd as the act is insolent; and none but a bridled press would ever offer such a trivial excuse for an act of so great importance. Must our Government stand such high-handed insults to her subjects, upon such a trivial showing? The people of the United States cannot, nor will not stand such proceedings. The arrest of Francis Train is no more to the people of the United States than would be that of any other citizen. Train is no friend of the American people, he has rendered himself obnoxious to many by his eccentricities; yet he has been arrested and imprisoned; he is an American citizen, and the popular voice demands that the act shall be accounted for.

Our people have not forgotten the Alabama. They remember full well the acts of Great Britain during the late war. Then their hands were tied; now they are free. When the people of the United States become so reduced as to permit any power like Great Britain to override them, then they had better place themselves under the protection of the Emperor of China, or join their fate with the Abyssinians. They seem to stand in no mortal fear of that blustering but harmless power. England is becoming too enlightened; her people are beginning to learn the blessings of peace too well, to wish to enter into a war with so formidable an opponent as the United States. All our government needs to do is to show them that she has the "back-bone," and her rights will be respected. If we quail, then will England bluster; if we bluster, then will England quail.

Our people are not at heart with Fenians; they do not care a fig whether Ireland is free or not. They do not up hold the fanatical Irishman in his attempts at arson and murder on British soil. On the contrary, their tongues are among the first to pronounce condemnation upon such actions. And even if they did not condemn them, must every American citizen who visits the shores of England be subjected to arrest, and incarceration in consequence thereof? No, we say, England will say no ere she imprisons many more American citizens even though it is but for a few days.

ANNUAL BALL.—Our gallant firemen have determined to give their third annual ball on Friday evening February 21st, at the Dutch Flat Theatre. Every necessary arrangement will be made by these gentlemen to insure the party being the recherche affair of the season.

A PRIVATE letter from Crystal Peak says times have been very dull for the past three weeks at that place, but that they are now looking up again. Building has been suspended for the present. He says that there is just snow enough to make good sleighing.

"OUR MUTUAL FRIEND."—A new weekly under the above name has made its appearance in San Francisco. It is published weekly by J. C. Robinson, at $3 per year. The first number presents a very creditable appearance.

THE editor of the San Mateo Gazette, undertook to wash his hands in a bowl of milk. He had just returned from San Francisco. Wonder what was the matter with him?

BAD PLACE.—In front of Mr. Morris' stable on Sacramento Street is a very bad hole, which should be fixed. Where is the road-overseer?

SUSPENDED.—Most of the mining claims in this vicinity have been compelled to suspend work on account of the inclement weather.

WE have been the recipients of several favors during the past week from the Hon. E. L. Bradley, for which we return the usual courtesies—our thanks.

A PORTION of the National Hotel caved in with snow on Thursday night. Also an old building situated just below the Orleans Saloon went "to smash."

TO E. G. Spencer, one of our efficient Assemblymen, we return our thanks for a large bundle of documents.

MITE.—The next meeting of this society will take place in the Golden Eagle Hall. A general invitation is extended.

THE Butte County Press one of the vilest sheets ever published in this State has ceased to exist.

WE learn that there are about twenty feet of snow at Meadow Lake.

LETTER FROM IOWA HILL.

IOWA HILL Jan. 23d, 1897.
EDITOR ENQUIRER.—EYES said in his last letter to you, that he would look toward Bird Flat for material for his next letter. So yesterday he looked that way for mining sights, and some that may be of interest to some of your readers. From this place we crossed Indian canyon direct to the "Morning Star" company's mill, which was running as usual; a description of this company's mill, and mine have been given so many times to the public, that it is not necessary for me to say any thing about it. Winding my way up the eastern bank of the canyon, I came into the claims of E. Medcalf, which has been fitted up in splendid style for a winter's work, and judging from the expense of the rigging Mr. Medcalf must know that he has rich ground to work. A little further up, and we came to the old Buck Eye tunnel, which was started some ten or twelve years ago; most of the members have abandoned or ceased to work some years since—only one still hangs to the mine and works; Patrick Gleason, an old white haired man, who has the utmost confidence that his fortune is within the mine, and day after day, he is picking away in the hard rock, expecting to soon break through into the channel, thought to be in the hill; and it is astonishing what tenacious faith he has in the mine, every body hopes that he may be successful in finding a mine, that shall dislodge even the Morning Star. On going into the mine rich deposit it would be positive proof that within the divide lays an immense amount of mining ground which would be long attract the attention of mining men. A little further up, and we found ourselves on Bird Flat. Here we found a large number of unoccupied buildings, which made the place look quite dull. Upon inquiry we learned that there was but one company at work, and that in the old St. Lawrence mine, under the management of Mr. S. J. Martin and at present yielding ore in sufficient quantities to gratify the expectations of the owners. Just at the head of the Flat is a tunnel known as the Know Nothing, now being run by Wm. Evans with fine prospects of opening a good mine some day in the future. The Dayton Co., seems to be the best paying mine we have seen. On going into the mine we were surprised at the thickness of pay gravel. They are now drifting from six to twelve feet high. On examining the dirt closely a large amount of gold could be seen, in fact from a single hand-full two dollars was obtained. This mine is carried on by Messrs. Collins, Stone, and Burns; under the superintendence of Patrick Stone, as jolly a foreman as ever worked a mine.

THEY WILL STEAL.—A Chinaman attempted, and in fact did steal a pair of pants from one of the clothing stores in town, on last Tuesday evening, but as he was caught in the act, he ran off throwing the pants between two buildings a short distance from where the theft was committed. Our people cannot keep too close watch on these individuals; for with them to steal is second nature.

STILL WE GROW.—Information has been received from Copenhagen, under date of Jan. 19th, stating that the official vote on the question of transfer to the United States stood 1244 in favor, and 22 against. So we are to have a new territory. Where will our flag float next?

I ANDREW JOHNSON, seems to be determined not to recognize Stanton, in his official capacity, and Congress seems to be equally as determined that he shall. What the up-shot of the matter will be, is yet to be determined.

THE effort to establish a singing school in this place, we learn, has failed. It is said to be the intention of those concerned in the late movement to form a glee club for their own private recreation and advancement.

ATREASTORY.—Tripping down the stair way once long ago, we fell, shattering a large, lighted floor lamp. In a moment the blaze wrapped us around like a fiery serpent.

Every tragedy has a comic side: Bridget tossed the baby on the bed, and ran for water; and Mary seized the spread to extinguish the flames and pulled baby down on the floor; Jane came up from the kitchen and put out every light then burning "because the house was afire," and bridged out the baby and the furniture, and down, upset the water, and bumped her nose. Meanwhile, we rolled over and over on the parlor floor, till the flames were extinguished, when one arm was found to be terribly burned.

Then how quickly Davis' Pain Killer soothed the pain, and to-day, with a hand and arm, unmarred by any scars, we write the praises of Pain Killer, valuable for many an ill and ache.—Manchester (N. H.) Every Month.

THEATRICAL.

DUTCH FLAT, JAN. 24, 1908.

EDITOR ENQUIRER:—The Gold Run Amateur Dramatists performed in this place on Friday evening the 17th inst. A scene from the "Lady of the Lake," the melodrama of the "Lady and the Devil," with chorus, duets and solos constituted the evening's entertainment. Fully the amount of dramatic and musical ability usual with amateurs was displayed by the troupe. The "Opening Chorus," by the company, and one of the duets, by the Misses Price, were very well rendered. The scene from the Lady of the Lake comprised the eventful meeting of Rhoderick Dhu and Fitz James, and the rhythmic rehearsal of private pique and clanish prejudice, resulting in the claymore conflict in which Rhoderick Dhu is made to shuffle off his mortal coil. The fragment was well put upon the stage, all the gorgeous scenery, stage properties and rich accessories of the Dutch Flat Amateur Dramatic Association (now "gone to grass," apparently) being brought into requisition. The effect of all this rich material brought to bear on the Lady of the Lake was very fine. No exhibition since the gorgeous spectacular play of "Gum Boots," has equaled it. One Mr. Snobles, a young star tragedian lately shot into the firmament from our neighboring town, further distinguished himself in the character of Rhoderick Dhu. Blessed with fair dramatic gifts, absorbed by a love of the historic art with ample leisure at command, Mr. Snobles has but to persevere to win distinction as an actor. His forte is tragedy, there can be no doubt about that. Of distinguished bearing, with the air of one born to command, action signified by every fibre, and impetuosity of temper gleaming in his eye, he is eminently fitted for the tragic role. Got up as Rhoderick Dhu, in great Highland perfection, with Giesler's plumed chapeau nodding defiance to the winds, Mr. Snobles looked the noble chieftain which he played. His conception of the character was a fine, fiery one in which action, and the natural elements of his composition in general, were brought into play to great advantage, as was testified at the close of every scene by the enthusiastic applause of the audience—which was not only a fashionable one, but highly critical. The character of Fitz James was sustained by Mr. Stokes who also exhibited, in a fair degree, the qualities, capacities and powers requisite for an actor of the tragic persuasion. Lofly in stature, democratic in demeanor, with great gentleness of disposition, rare equanimity of spirits and evenness of temper and general geniality of soul, he succeeded in investing the noble Fitz James with his own admirable characteristics in the happiest degree conceivable, presenting throughout the play, a pleasing contrast to his choleric opponent, and showing that dramatic distinction may be reached by two directions, at one and the same time. Studiously eschewing the arts usually made use of by actors, entirely ignoring the path of general stage behavior, he pursued the even tenor of his way in Giesler's gorgeous cloak with the rapid dexterity of his side, with the air of one conscious of being well dressed for the part and possessed of superior penetration of the authors' meaning as to how it should be played, now pausing with stately grace, to consider Rhoderick Dhu's violent proposition for a fight, confronting that person with the air of one not born to brook an insult but too much of a gentleman to engage in an unnecessary mous, now moving on again with measured pace to the tune of the "Grand March in Norma," played behind the scenes, on a fiddle, winning unmeasured applause by his cool and collected demeanor in the trying situations of the part, and, finally, bringing down the house by the measured exactness of his strokes and lunges as bringing down the fiery Rhoderick Dhu who, it appears, with all his bluster, was not quite a match for the staid and steady-going Fitz James. The melodrama of the "Lady and the Devil" closed the entertainment. The play, of course, presents a love plot. A chap "in the marry" encounters a designing fair who, casting longing eyes upon him, resolves to marry him or work him out of his life. Masking and other feminine arts and accomplishments are had recourse to, the victim goes through the usual course of sprouts and torture, and is brought to the scratch. The play is a merry one, and bounds in fine situations for rough fun in talent. The Misses Price appeared in this piece, and merited and mischievously performed their parts. Indeed, from the ease, grace and pleasing dexterity with which they performed them, one might readily suppose that more experience in such matters had been had than implied by the simple claim of Amateurs. A song, with guitar accompaniment, was introduced into this play, which was about as pretty a piece of minstrelsy as one usually has the opportunity to listen to. Owing to the inclemency of the evening, and the attractions offered by the M. F. Social on the same inst., the attendance was not so numerous as the novelty of the entertainment demanded.

HOPE FOR THE AFFLICTED.—In another part of this paper will be found the latest means of the celebrated Institute established by Dr. J. C. YOCUM, in 1859. In this age of deceit and charlatans, it is a boon to the suffering to point out to them where they are sure of obtaining the wished for relief and cure. Under the care of the skillful Doctor the sick and troubled can divest themselves of their burdens of pain; lay aside their cross, and secure health and happiness. If you are sick or in trouble, do not hesitate. Read the advertisement and follow the advice. Do not forget the number or the manner of directing your letters. Consultation Office, 549, Washington street, San Francisco.

MEDICAL ADVICE.—DR. WM. K. DOHERTY'S Medical and Surgical Institute is becoming a sine qua non to the welfare of our State and health of our citizens, and his rapidly spreading reputation, although it may excite surprise, is but the signal of skill, and follows as the natural result of such a cause. We are personally acquainted with gentlemen who had suffered for years under chronic disease, and who had taken advantage of every available means that promised relief, but without success, until they called upon Dr. Doherty, who, in an incredibly short space of time, has given them entire relief. It is gratifying to announce this fact, because the Dr. is a gentleman who seeks, not by deflection of others to establish his reputation or ruin of another's fame. The Doctor conducts his own Institute in such a manner must be gratifying to all his patients. He examines, advises, and recommends without charge, and the patient, after hearing his terms for treatment, can accept relief at pleasure. In case where the Doctor makes a charge unless he effects a cure. This he is able to do, because he feels the confidence which long experience has given him, and the consolation which appertain to his confidence. Persons afflicted with either acute or chronic disease, would do well to consult the Doctor at once, in giving relief in these cases for which he asks no fee; nor does he in his office, in obedience to his advice unless the patient places himself under his care. His offices are at 549, Washington street, opposite the Pacific Mail Steamship office.

SPECIAL MEDICAL NOTICE.—DR. CHARLES H. TOZER would most respectfully inform the sick and afflicted that his Medical Institute is removed to No. 108 Montgomery street, next door to the Occidental Hotel, San Francisco. Having relinquished his old modes of advertising, which has become common with all the Quack Doctors of San Francisco, filling up the newspapers with false promises, for the purpose of securing even a trial, he thinks it is only necessary to inform those in need of a Physician of long experience and successful practice, that I can be consulted at all business hours, at my Medical Institute, next door to the Occidental Hotel, San Francisco.

Ladies suffering from the Whites, Pains, Weakness of the Back, Pain in the Side, Headache, Palpitation of the Heart, Derangement of their Monthly Sickness, and all other diseases that the Female System is subject to will find prompt relief by applying to DR. TOZER.

My Female Monthly Pills were never known to fail in cases where for which they are recommended. To be obtained only at my office. Price $5 with full directions on each Box. Sent by mail or express.
